PAST GAME OF BALL. New York Tail-Enders Easily Vanquished by the Bostons Who Tie the Quakers Pittsburg Wins From St. Louis and Chicago Takes a Double Header From Cincinnati. The Brooklyns played up to their championship form yesterday, and won from the Philadelphias in a most interesting game. They still lead by 71 points, though the Pittsburgs took a close contest from St. Louis. The Bos-tons had a picnic at the expense of the New York tail-enders, and also tled the Philadelphias for third place. The Chicagos captured two games from the Cincinnatis and are 10 points behind the Beaneaters and the Quakers The results:

BROOKLYN 5: PHILADELPHIA 2. Beautiful weather and fast playing, coupled with a clean-cut victory for the Brooklyns over the Philadelphias made yesterday's ball game at Washington Park a most enjoyable affair for 3,000 spectators who took it in. In striking contrast to the slothful movements of the teams on Friday, the players showed constant life, energy and dash, with showed constant life, energy and dash, with the result that the last inning was completed when one hour and forty-two minutes had elapsed. There was one unpleasant feature when Dahlen objected to a strike called by Impire Hurst in the fifth inning and then stepped upon the plate where he stopped a pitched ball from Bernhardt with his hand. For this offence Hurst called Dahlen out, the ball being declared a third strike.

Bernhardt was hit harder than the score indicates. Fine catches by Thomas, Dolan and Wolverton were features, while three-baggers by Dahlen and Lajole were the best drives of the day. The Philadelphias tallied once in the fifth when Dolan got around on his force, Bernhardt's single, Thomas's force and Jones's muff of Slagle's fly which would have been easily caught but for Dahlen's interference. In the last half Keeler made the fourth run for Brooklyn on his single, Jennings's base hit to right, which was fumbled by Flick, and Kelley's smash, which was spiendidly captured by Thomas. Jones scored the Champions last run in the seventh when he hit safely, took second on an out and ran in on Kelley's single. Lajole knocked out a three-bagger in the ninth and crossed the plate on Flick's long fly to Jones. The score:

Good Race Between the 60-Footers at the Larchmont Y. C. Regatta.

The Larchmont Yacht Club held a special regatta yesterday in which ten yachts start ed. There was a fine easterly breeze when the Regatta Committee got out to the starting line. August Belmont and the Mineola was present, but as no other 70-footers were on hand Mr. Belmont entered his two sons' 18-footers, Kingfisher and Sandpiper, handling the last named boat himself, while his son, August Belmont, Jr., sailed the Kingfisher.

The chief interest of the day centred in the English 60-footers, Astrild and Isolde, which sailed in racing trim with club topsails aloft. Cord Meyers's crack 51-footer raced against James Baird's newly renovated Hussar II. The Hussar has recently had her mast moved three feet further aft and, with her new double head rig, great things were expected of her. If any thing she was worse than usual and was nearly three miles astern at the end of the first round, when her owner wisely with-drew. The other starters included the 43-footer Katonah, which was down to give the smart yawl Albicore double time allowance; Oswald Sanderson's Herreshoft 36-footer Countess and a new Hanley boat named the Cherokee, owned by E. W. Clark, Jr., of Philadelphia. The preparatory signal sounded at 11:30, and at 11:35 the 60-footers started. The Astrild, on the starboard tack, was the first away to windward, 50 seconds in advance of the Isolde, which swung around on the port tack immediately after crossing. The Altair and Hussar crossed at 11:40, the first boat being to windward and a little ahead. Of the other boats the Albicore led the Katonah over the Iline, crossing on the starboard tack, while the sloop tried the port tack. The Countess was to windward and ahead of the Cherokee, while August Belmont made a bad start with the Sandpiper, allowing his son to beat him both in start and position.

The course for the larger boats was twice around a 15-mile triangle. The 51, 43 and 36-footers salled twice around an 11-mile triangle while the 18-footers went twice around a 55-mile course. This mude it a beat to the first mark Oswald Sanderson's Herreshoff 36-footer Countfooters sailed twice around an 11-mile triangle while that is footers went twice around a 5½-mile course. This made it a beat to the first mark a run with spinnakers to port to the second and a reach home on the starboard tack. As it was a beat to windward and a westerly tide, all of the yachts except the Katonah and Albicore stood over to the Long Island shore on the port tack and then toward the beach. The Altair sailed very fast and soon left the Hussar far astern and even gained a lot on the 60-footers and would have beaten them had she been sailing the same course.

Attair sailed very fast and soon left the Hussar far astern and even gained a lot on the 60-footers and would have beaten them had she been sailing the same course.

At the first mark the Altair was over seven minutes ahead of the Hussar, while there were cmy thirty-five seconics difference between the Astrild and Isoide, their time of rounding being Astrild, 12:36:31, Isoide, 12:37:39. It was a run now to the second mark, and the Astrild set a oig jib topsail, while the Isoide held her baby jib topsail and set her bailoon staysail. The Isoide soon broke out her spinnaker to port and the Astrild quickly followed her ex ample. The Hanin boys seemed to have used better judgment in the canvas matter and the result was the Astrild had increased her lead to over two minutes by the time she reached the second mark. In the little reach to the home mark on the starboard tack the Isoide gained about half a minute. Hussar II. at the end of the first round was so far astern of the Altair that she withdrew. The Countess in the meantime had a big lead on the Cherokee and soon after they started on the second round the last named carried away her port spreader (in also withdrew. August Belmont, on the little San Jopiper, was a long way to windward of the Kingfisher. As soon as the yachts got on the wind again the Isoide drew up on the Astrild and was only 34 seconds astern at the outer mark. In the run down the wind they held the same canvas as on the first round, and this time the Isoide drew up a little nearer, and at 3:50, when the wind hauled to the southeast, she was almost on top of the Astrild. The Hanan boat drew away again and gybed her boom to port as she rounded the second mark about a minute in advance of the Isoide, which did not gybe and which immediately set its spinnaker to port. The Astrild's skipper thought that he had made an error and gybed her boom back again and gybed her boom back again she reror of judgment.

The Isoide finished at 4:4:403 and the Astrild to seconds later. The Astrild had to allow the

NEWPORT, Sept. 1.—The semi-finals in the pair races between the 30-footers for the cup offered by Mrs. Herman B. Duryea were sailed this afternoon, and as a result there are left to sail in the finals the Esperanza and Dorothy. It seems that in yesterday's race the Wa Wa fouled the Hera, and she was to-day ruled out, which gave the race to the Hera. The wind this afternoon was from the southwest, and the course selected was from off Rose Island to the light ship, and back about twelve miles. The course selected was from off Rose Island to the lightship and back, about twelve miles. The Dorothy and Pollywog were sent off first. Dorothy got the best of the start and held the lead to the end. In the other race the Hera got the start and held the Esperanza under her lee until well out to the lightship, when a tow of barges separated the two yachts. When they came together again the Esperanza was the windward boat. It was a run home with spinnakers, The summary:

The Nike Capsized. Harvey W. Hall of the American Yacht Club for a series of contests between the Nora and Nike

The second race for the cup offered by was sailed yesterday. The start was made at 12:10 o'clock and the first leg of the course was 12:10 o'clock and the first leg of the course was a run. At the first mark the times taken were Nike, 12:26:00, Nora, 12:28:00. After turning the mark the Nike capsized and was towed in by Mr. Iselin's launch. The Nora, owned by Lewis Iselin, at once withdrew from the race. It was agreed by the owners of the two boats that if an accident happened to either one during any race it should be considered no contest. The next attempt will be made next Friday afternoon.

The Manhasset Bay Yacht Club had a regatta resterday for small boats. The yachts raced over the triangular course off the clubhouse at Port Washington. In the 21-foot knockabout class the Scintilla and Lassie were the only starters. The Scintilla won by 2 minutes 40 seconds. In the 1s-foot class the Scoot beat the Chinook by 8 minutes. The Jessica started in this class but was disabled and did not finish. In the race for cabin catboats W. T. Reed's Chisbe beat the Hypatia by 16 seconds, and in the race for the small class the Gazelle won from the Wam Pum.

INDIAN HARBOR Y. C. HOLDS A SUC-CESSFUL REGATTA OFF GREENWICH.

Close Contests in Many Classes-Alerion Wins the 30 Footer Race for Sloops by 8 Seconds, Corrected Time-Schooners Katrina and Wayward Have No Competitors. The autumn race of the Indian Harbor Yacht Club sailed yesterday on the sound off Greenwich was one of the best witnessed this season. The wind was fresh from the east, southeast and early in the day there was quite a sea running that made things unpleasant for some of the small boats. The Regatta Committee, seeing that some of the yachts would not be able to reach the starting line on time, postponed the start from noon until 12:30 clock. The schooners were the first to cross the line. An effort had been made to get them to race in one class, but the owners were not willing and so it was only interesting as far as a comparison could be made between the two yachts Wayward and Katrina. The Wayward led across the line, but on the first leg, which was to windward, the Katrina passed her and kept in front until the finish. These two boats sailed twenty-four miles.

The 36 and 30-foot classes of sloops and yawls sailed twice around a triangle, making eighteen miles altogether. The 36-foot classes were started at 12:50 o'clock. The Anoatok was the first over the line followed by the Escape. Freya, Flora, and O'Shima San. They were on the starboard tack and it was a beat to the first mark. Freya had no centreboard and could not sail to windward like the other boats, but G. D. Bradish, her owner, started to see what he could do. They were close together at the first mark and then had a close reach to the second mark, where they gybed their booms to port. Some of the boats carried spinnakers to the home mark. The Anoatok finished the first round at 2:28:29, but she withdrew from the contest on the second round and the O'Shima San was not seen again after she crossed the starting line, so that there was no finish in the 38-foot class. In the race for yawls the Escape soon took the lead. She was timed at the end of the first round at 2:33:49. She finished the race at 4:13:25 and was the only one to finish in her class.

In the 30-foot class the contest was a very close one all over the course. In addition to the regular class prize these yachts raced for a silver cup offered by Commodore Charles T. Wills. They were started at 12.55, and Alfred Feats sent his yacht Enpronzi across the line in the lead. The Oiseau was on the Enpronzi's weather quarter and the Alerion was a little to windward of the Oiseau. The Marguerite was last. Soon after crossing the Alerion split tacks with the others and lost very much by doing so. The others stood well in toward the beach to get out of the tide, while the Alerion, tacking out into the Sound, got the full force of it. The Enpronzi and Oiseau had it nip and tuck all the way round. At the home mark at the end of the first round they were timed. Enpronzi, 2.25:38; Oiseau, 2.26.65; Marguerite, 2.26.55; Alerion, 2.34:13. The Enpronzi led around the second time and coming across the Sound on the last leg seemed to have the race won. The Oiseau was very close behind and J. R. Maxwell tried to luff out so as to pass the Enpronzi. A short luffling match ensued, which allowed the Alerion to gain very much on the leaders. The Enpronzi crossed the line first, but on corrected time she was beaten by the Alerion by 5 seconds. The raceabouts sailed twice around a triangle six miles in length. This was also the course for the smaller yachts. The starting signal for the raceabouts was made at 1 o'clock, and Johnston de Forest sent the Scamp across the line almost with the signal. Raider was next, followed in order by the Colleen, Stindrift, Snapper and Sis. About two minutes after crossing the line the Stindrift's peak halyards parted and she was forced to retire. The Sis soon took the lead, and the Raider took second place. At the end of the first round the times were: Sis, 204:15; Raider, 2:05:15; Scamp, 2:06:00 Colleen, 2:07:18; Snapper, 2:07:24. There was little change on the second round. The Sis won the race, beating the Raider 2 minutes 2:6 seconds. In addition to the regular class prize these boats lose one all over the course. YALE FOOTBALL NEWS.

Eight Veterans in the Squad Which Will Begir Training Sept. 15.

NEW HAVEN, Sept. 1. -The Yale football squad which will begin training in this city n Sept. 15 is composed of Gordon Brown, P. H. Olcott, G. T. Goss, E. L. Fox, Charles Gould, C. Chadwick, J. H. Wear, A. H. Sharpe, A. J. Young, H. C. Holt, G. S. Stillman, F. W. Wilhelm, R. R. Richardson, W. W. Hoppin Perry Hale, C. P. Cook, C. J. Hamlin and W. M. Fincke. Eight of these men played on ast year's team. Sharpe and Chadwick, who played half back last season are back. Of last year's tackles Francis has graduated, while Stillman is still in college. Both of last year's guards, Brown and Olcott, and last while Stillman is still in college. Both of last year's guards, Brown and Olcott, and last year's centre, Hale, are still in college. Fincke last year's quarter, will be in college again this year, but McBride, who played full back will not be here as a player. All of the five men who played on the ends of the Yale rush line last season in the big games have graduated.

It is the intention of Capt. Brown to take Hale away from centre and play him at half back this season. His playing last season constantly reminded Yale's coaches that he was out of place at centre, and that his real place was at half back. Most of the coaches expect to see Hale do something brilliant in the latter position this season.

The withdrawal of Hale from centre will leave only three veterans in the Yale rush line. These will be Capt. Brown and Olcott at the guards, and Stillman at tackle. Both ends, one of the guard positions and centre will have to be filled by new men. For these positions there are no men among the substitutes of last season who are particularly promising. Gould played a fairly good game at end last season, but is not a first-class player. It is hard to tell where Yale will get a man for centre, and it may be that Hale will have to go back to this position before the end of the season, simply because there is no one else to fill it.

There is one clever end rush in college provided he can keep off probation and get a chance to play. This man is C. P. Cook, known as "Dan' Cook, the 'Varity baseball pitcher. Cook has the qualities for an ideal end rush and it is a pity that for the past few seasons Yale has been unable to avail herself of Cook's services simply because the always has the mistortune to fall behind in mathematics and get on probation.

With so many vacancies in the Yale line it to distribute to form any conjecture regarding to fall behind in mathematics and get on pro-bation.

With so many vacancies in the Yale line it is difficult to form any conjecture regarding the possible strength of the line. A. J. roung and Richardson will probably be given a trial at centre rush early in the season. Young is a big fellow with practically no experience. Richardson has been in college for three years and has always had trouble with his studies. The candidates for the vacant position at tackle will be Goss and Holt. These men are more promising.

will be Goss and Holt. These men are more promising.

The end positions will probably go to Gould and Cook at the beginning of the season. Yale will get a lot of freshmen this fall who have made prep. school reputations as ends. The football management is, therefore, hopeful that some of these players will turn out well. Holt will probably be tried at the vacant tackle position. Last season Holt was played at centre with only fair success. Hyde, a former Wesleyan player, who is now in the theological school and who was ineligible last year, will be among the candidates for the team this fall. He weighs 180 pounds and has quite a reputation as a player. At Wesleyan he played as full back, but Yale proposes to try him as a tackle this fall. Fred Beck, the shot putter, is another man who may make a tackle. He entered Yale several years ago, but got behind in his studies and dropped out of college. Last fall he entered the medical school, but was unable to try for the team.

Back of the line Fincke will, of course, be the favorite for quarter back. Sharpe will probably be taken from half back and moved to full back favorite for quarter back. Sharpe will probably be taken from half back and moved to full back this season. This will leave Chadwick the only veteran for one of the half back positions.

The last game of the championship series of the New York Cricket Association was played yesterday at Prospect Park, where the Kings county team, the only eleven in the association credited with a victory over the champion Patersons, received a surprise from Nelson Lodge and had to yield gracefully to defeat at the hands of the juniors by 18 runs. E. A. Skyne captured 6 wickets for 12 runs for Nelson Lodge and W. Kellard played a capital innings of 23, while the timely hitting of S. Holloway eventually secured the victory for the Nelsons. For Kings County A. Nugent did the best work both with bat and ball. The score:

The Caribbeans once more tried their strength against drocklyn Team B at Prospect Park, and this time they got considerably the worst of the encounter, and suffered defeat by 42 runs. The features of the game was the bowling of P. S. Scanlon, whose "underhands" went unsolved by the Caribbeans and eight of their wickets were obtained by the "daisy cutters" for 9 runs. A. Eldridge did the best batting for the Caribbeans with a good not-out innings of 22 but the team work of the Brooklyns told in the end, and although their highest individual innings was H. O. Seale's 17, the total amounted to 111. The totals were Caribbeans C. C. 69: Brooklyn Team B, 111.

The team of the steamship Manitou made an excellent showing against a strong eleven of Nelson Lodge team B, but were defeated after a good game. A. Hannister and A. McAlister made a splendid stand for the saliors, with scores of 44 and 23, respectively, but the other men hardly backed up these efforts. For Nelson Lodge J. Boxil played in unusually good form for 51, while W. Boxill and F. Bogers also got into the honors list with contributions of 16 apiece. The totals were: Ss. Manitou, 78; Nelson Lodge Team B, 122.

There were no games played yesterday at Central Park, but indians, put in the afternoon practising. By a peculiar order of the Park Department no spectators were allowed to stand on the grass to witness the play, and an officer was stationed there to warn people away. No explanation was given of this order beyond the suggestion that it was to prevent injury to the turf.

which is on look for the arrangement of an international chees tournament, to be played in two rounds, one of these rounds to be contested in the United States, the other at this city. It is intended to raise $5,000 here, and it is expected to raise an equal amount in the United States. An enthusiastic member of the St. Denis Club in this city had a talk about the matter with a chees player from New York who happened to be here on a visit. The local club intended to raise $2,000, and they thought that this sum would be sufficient to induce the great players to come to this city.

The chess player from New York, however, pointed out that such a sum would not fetch the leading masters. He suggested to enter into negotiations with the Manhattan Chees Club of New York, and if this organization would take the matter up, $6,000 could be raised in all a sum big enough for such a contest. Of course the masters would then be asked to compete in a double-round tourney.

GOSSIP OF THE HARNESS HORSES. Arrivals at Empire City Track for the Mat-

ince Meet Next Saturday. Several of the road wagon cracks which are entered in the contests scheduled for the matinée meeting of the Road Drivers' Association at the Empire City track next Saturday have arrived at the course and are now in the hands of professional trainers, who will endeavor to key them up to winning form during the week. Interest is running so high in connection with the meeting and competition is expected to be so keen that owners are taking every possible means to have their horses in the best possible form. The star event will doubtless be the big team race, as the contest promises to be a warm one. In addition, there are three classes for pacers and three for trotters, the entries to which guarantee keen races

These matines to which guarantee keen races.

These matines meetings are managed on a different plan from that of any other association in that they are conducted entirely at the expense of the members. Each member, in addition to free entrance, receives twenty invitations for distribution among his friends. Ladies are admitted free, while the presentation of a card or button by any member of any road drivers' association is a sufficient passrori.

The 2:40 trotting class for a cup is the first race on the card, and there will be six starters, according to the entry list. Four are named for the 2:40 class pacing, while ten of the fastest Speedway horses have been entered for the Robertson cup, donated for 2:20 trotters. Eight of the speediest pacers are entered for the wagon prize. For the 2:15 trot seven horses are entered and six pacers will contest in the 2:15 class.

The North Jersey Agricultural and Driving Association has arranged a very attractive programme for a matine race meeting at Hohokous for to-morrow, and the classes have filled surprisingly well. There are fifteen entries in the 2:20 trotting and pacing, eight in the 2:30 trotting and pacing, seventeen in the 2:30 trotting and pacing, seventeen in the 2:30 road wagon trotting and pacing. These entries include some of the best half-mile track campaigners.

The light harness events are 2:42 class trotting; 2:45 class pacing; 2:29 class trotting; 2:43 class pacing; 2:30 class pacing; 2:40 class trotting; 2:43 class pacing; 2:40 class trotting; 2:43 class pacing; 2:40 class trotting; 2:43 class pacing and a free for all trotting and pacing. In these events the nominations range from six to twenty-seven. Alexander Newburger of the Speedway brigade, has been engaged as starting judge.

The report that the stallion Lecco, 2:00¼, had been thrown out of training has been verified. He has a bowed tendon.

Wilrissa, the bay mare burned in the race-track fire at Providence on Friday, was entered in the 2:18 class trot at the EmpireCity track. The descendants of Wilkes Boy made an excellent showing at the Readville meeting. Courier-Journal, 2:06½, pacing, and York Boy, 2:00½, trotting, were by him, and Royal R. Sheldon, 2:05½, pacing, is by Constantine, 2:12½, a son of Wilkes Boy. All three won first money and reduced their records.

The $20,000 stallion race of the New England Trotting Horse Breeder Association will be trotted on Thursday, Sept. 27.

CRACK RIFLEMEN AT SEA GIRT Pennsylvania Supplies the Winner of Wimble

SEA GIRT, Sept. 1 - The second day's meet ng of the New Jersey State Rifle Association was characterized by some good shooting. The interest never flagged from the time tha shut down at 6 o'clock. The conditions were all that could be desired, except possibly tha wind was a little too fresh to suit some of the riflemen. The morning was devoted to pra-riflemen. The morning was devoted to practice and the shooting of the riflemen showel that they are rapidly accustoming themselves to the ranges.

Pennsylvania carried off the honors of the day, winning the Wimbledon cup match with 11 points to spare. The fortunate sharpshooter was William de Van Faulke, a member of the Philadelphia Rifle Association. His score was 149, and equalled that made by Lieut F. C. Wilson of Savannah, Ga., last year. Faulke competed in the same match last year, but did not secure a place. To-day he shot with a great deal of judgment. He loaded and cleaned his own gun, and was utterly oblivious to the compliments that were passed on his shooting. He wanted no advice and would not accept Faulke shot with a Sharp rifle, and according to the conditions of the match was obliged to give a handicap of 17 points to those using military rifles. Private W. G. Hudson of Company C. Hudson also finished second last year. The scores of the other contestants were as follows.

The team will enter the carbine match on Tuesday and will participate in the revolver matches on Thursday. Lieut. Sayre expects some creditable work from the team. Four Skytminth Regiment men came in to-day. They were Lieut. H. E. Evans, Inspector of Rifa Practice; Major D. C. Devlin, Sergt. Peter Finnegan, who won the Wimbleton cup in 1804, and Major William A. Boyle, who captured the President's match five years ago. To-day Finnegan made a poor showing in the Wimbleton cup match Boyle will enter the President's match again this year. It will be commenced on Fricay with the first stage and finished on Saturday.

A crack team made up of the best shots in New York State is expected to arrive to-morrow night. The sharpshooters will be in command of Col. N. B. Thurston, General Inspector of Riffe Practice of the State.

Gov. Voorhees visited the ranges to-day, and expects to remain here all the week. Adjutant-General William S. Stryker also viewed the work of the marksmen as the guest of Gen. Bird W. Spencer, Inspector General of Rifle Practice of New Jersey.
